Lounge Offered Students New Place for Relaxation

To many students, the most important addition to Chatham Central was the student lounge. They enjoyed using the lounge during break and lunch, as well as at dances.

With more student freedom came student involvement. Action sessions gave interested students a chance to make contributions to the school, and to voice their gripes.

As the school grew, individuals kept pace. Landis Phillips, a 1970 graduate was elected as the state F.F.A. president. He was the first from CCHS to hold a state office.

New Occupational Course Prepared Participants for Careers in Food Service and Cabinet Making

Nineteen girls enrolled in the new, two-unit training program Food Service. The new Home Economics Department included a special kitchen for this class. It consisted of a serving counter, a sandwich bar, a short order grill, and two French fry baskets. Observation in public restaurants was a part of the course.

Upon completion of the course, the girls were able to secure employment through the Food Service Agency. Jobs included those of short-order cooks, waitresses, dieticians' aides, and caterers.

Cabinet-making II, offered for the first time this year, further prepared students for the cabinet-making profession.

Noticeable Changes in Campus Facilities and Dress Code Illustrated Growth

Girls were allowed to wear pant suits to school for the first time. A group of girls and teachers were elected to govern the types of slacks to be allowed.

New classrooms and an auditorium promised growth of facilities, as well as of individuals. The auditorium, which seats six hundred people, was used for dramatic productions, assemblies and other activities.

Mr. Barry Burns Honored with Yearbook Dedication

Centralia 1971 is dedicated to one who has challenged us to perform according to individual ability showing no favoritism, who has demonstrated personal concern for his students, and who has both organized and worked diligently with the student council.

With grateful appreciation, the senior class honors Mr. Barry Burns with the dedication.

Expansion of Curriculum, Classrooms Enabled Students to Grow and Develop Talents Through Work with Others

Growth was evident at Chatham Central through the addition of 17 new classrooms, which provided space for a number of new courses this year and in the future.

Food Service and Boys' Home Economics were added to the vocational curriculum. The new Home Economics Department included a special unit for the Food Service class, as well as 4 other kitchenettes, and a demonstration unit.

Built for a teaching station, the new auditorium assured cultural growth for students either as audiences or actors. It served as a classroom for Central's first dramatics class.

Cabinet making II, Boy's Chorus and Art III, other new courses, offered students a wider range of electives. Hidden talents were uncovered as students developed and grew through working with others.

Mrs. Evelyn Harris

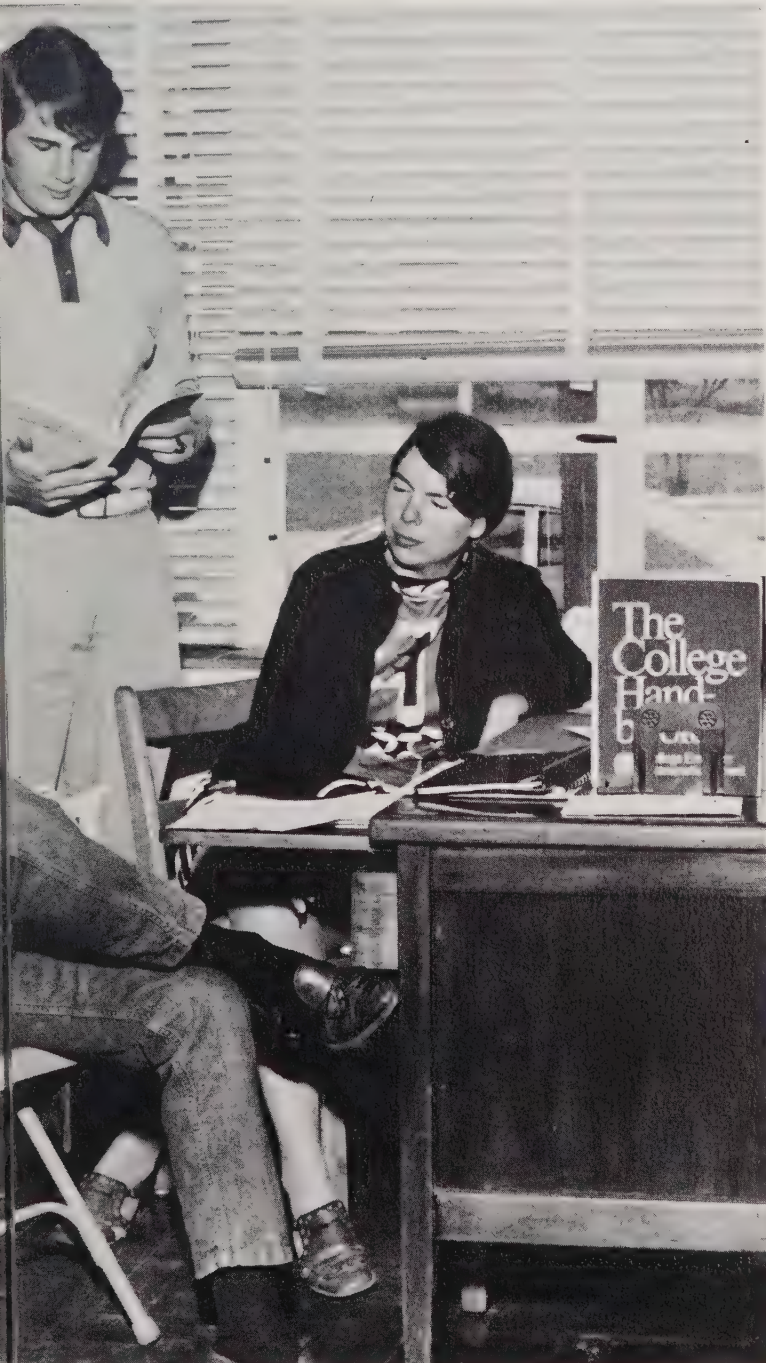

Mrs. Janice Scott

Mrs. Reva Lambeth

Mrs. Brenda Womble

Mr. Phillips was a responsible leader at Chatham Central and made decisions that benefited the student body as a whole. Mrs. Wilson was his efficient secretary.

Miss McKee counseled with individual students, encouraging them to complete their high school education. She gave special help to seniors planning to enter college. Her secretary was Brenda Womble.

Mrs. Leonard enjoyed helping students to take full advantage of the library and its facilities.

Three teachers' aides, Evelyn Harris, Janice Scott, and Reva Lambeth, ran off tests for teachers, made change in the cafeteria, and filled out bus drivers' time sheets.

Journalism II Added to Language Arts Curriculum

Students who had taken Journalism I were offered Journalism II, the new addition to the English department. They gained valuable experience by working on the school paper and were trained for a possible career in journalism.

Besides learning new ways of self expression, English students explored other peoples' methods. Shakespeare's works of art puzzled both sophomores and seniors.

French, the only foreign language available, gave students still another way of expressing themselves.

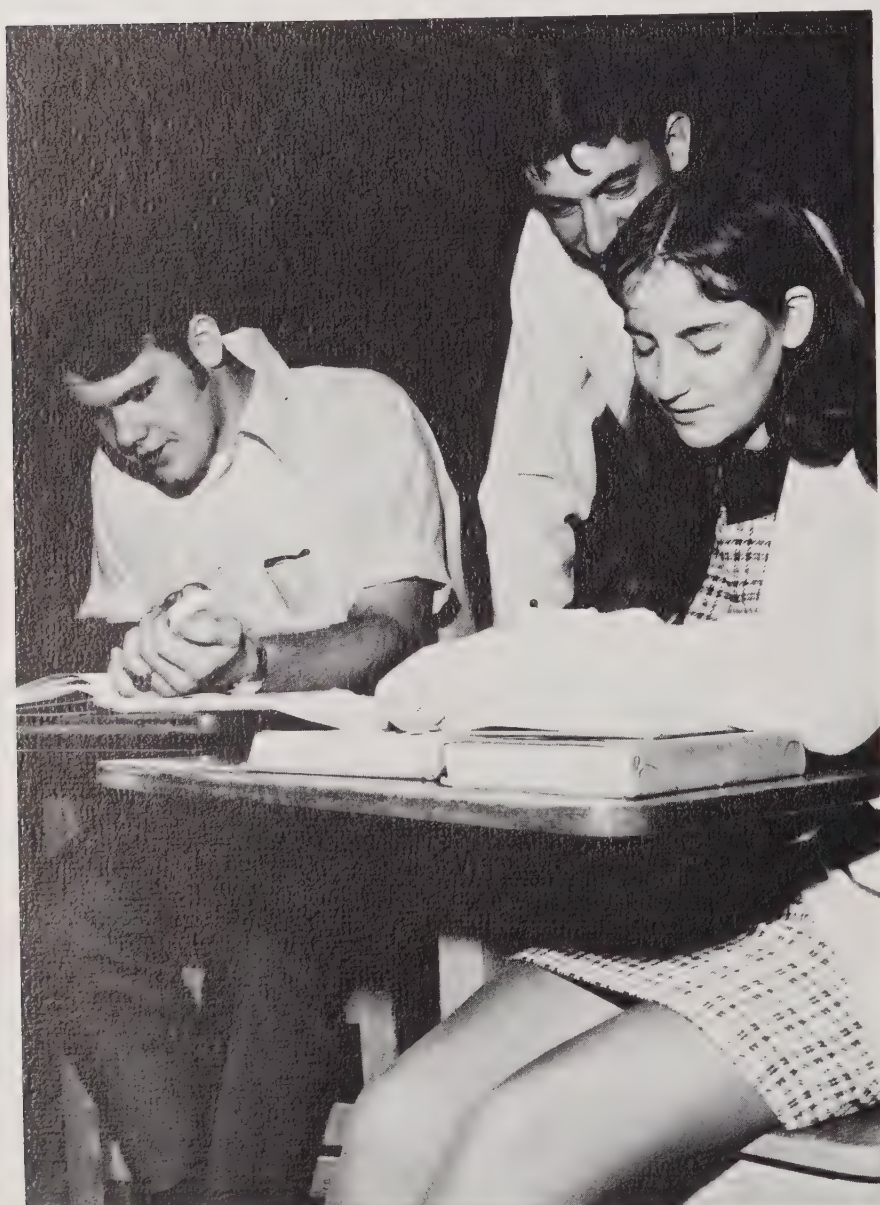

LEFT Using earphones was a basic method for French students to learn to speak the language. ABOVE Daisey Britt and Cheryl Phillips dramatized a scene from Macbeth for a senior English project.

College Bound Students Gained Vital Mathematics Background

Algebra I and II, Geometry, and Advanced Math supplied college-bound students with the background in mathematics that is so vital in the furthering of one's education.

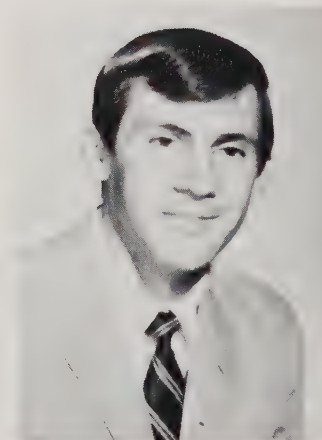

Consumer math students gained a general knowledge of the business world through research, filmstrips, outside speakers, and routine assignments.

Science Students Enriched by Field Trips, Research,

This year's science program included physical science, a requirement for freshmen; biology, a requirement for sophomores; and chemistry, an elective offered to juniors and seniors who were preparing for college.

Students grew in knowledge of the sciences through lectures, field trips, outside reading, and projects such as term papers. Chemical experiments, dissections, and microscopic observations in the laboratory were a regular part of each course.

Training Acquired Through Practical Application of Up-to-Date Business Skills

Students gained much valuable experience and training through Chatham Central's business curriculum.

Prospective business employees acquired experience in the practical application of typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, and office practice.

Office practice also enabled students to acquire the skills required to operate many of the modern business machines that will face them in future employment.

History Students Taught to Appreciate Democracy

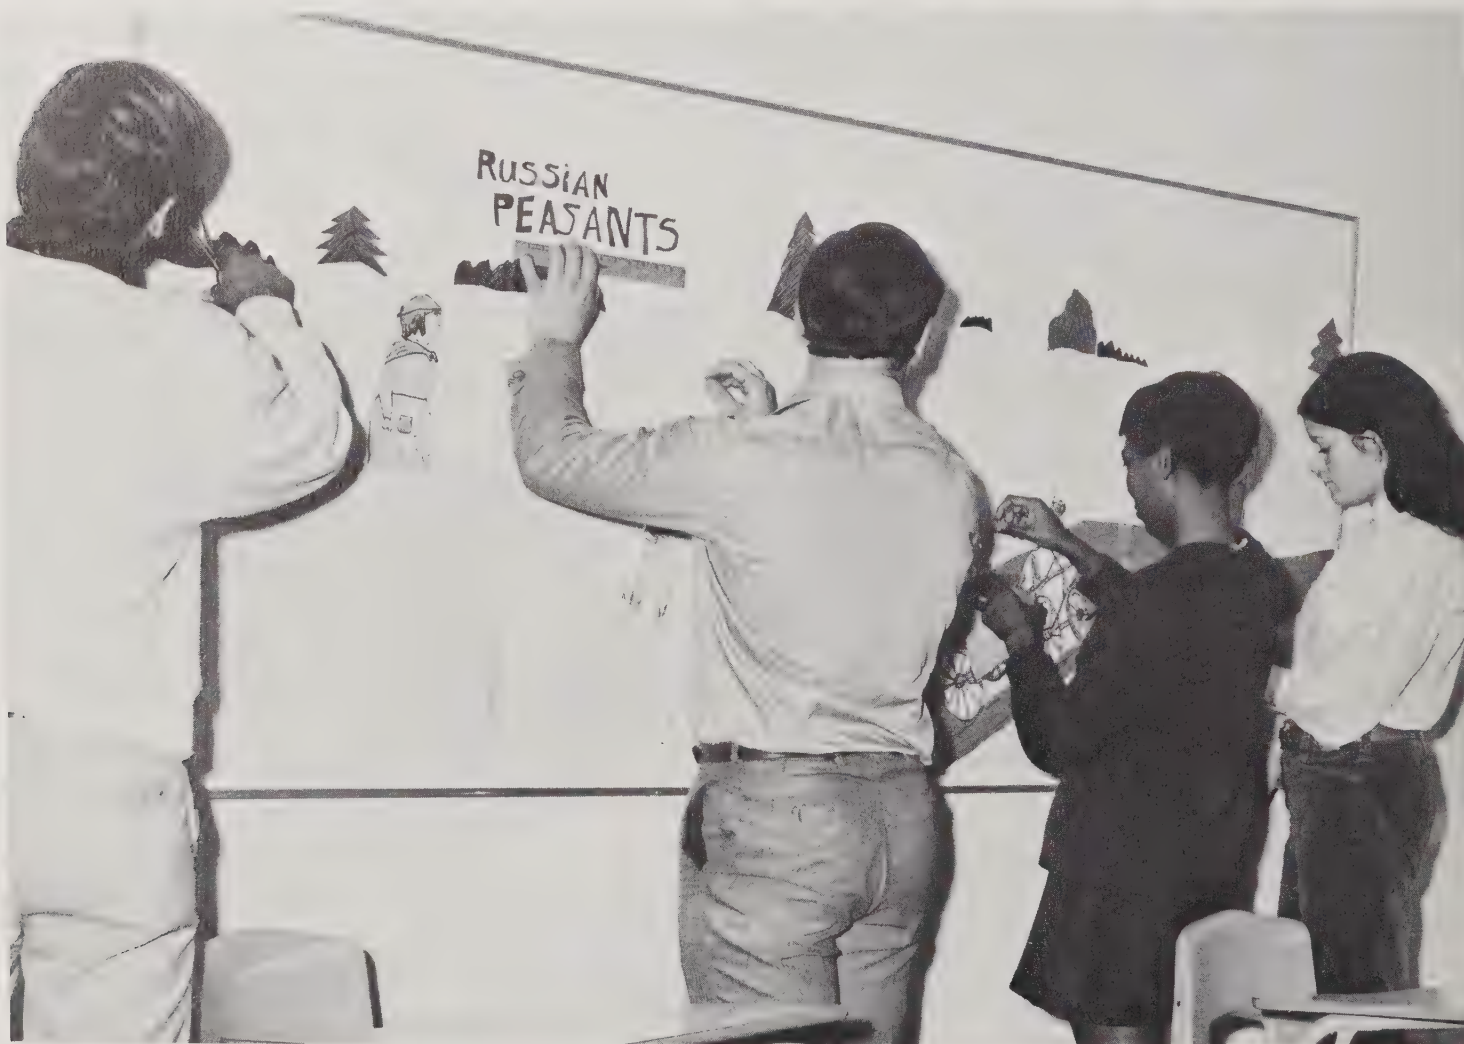

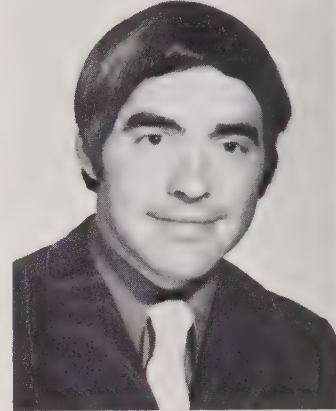

Miss Joan Hill

Mr. Richard Hughes

United States History was the only required history course offered at Chatham Central this year. It provided students with a greater understanding of their United States and the Constitution governing it.

Students not only studied the past, but also studied the present in Modern History. They grew in their understanding of the world situation through class discussions and films.

Comparison of Russian Communism and American Democracy made them more appreciative of the American way of life.

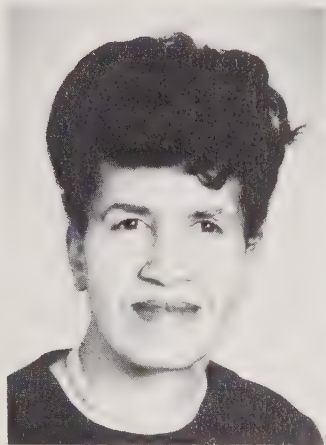

ABOVE Miss Hill's Modern History class did the bulletin board on Russian peasants to go along with their study of Communism.

Food Service, Boys' Class Enriched Home Ec. Program

Mrs. Virginia Fitts

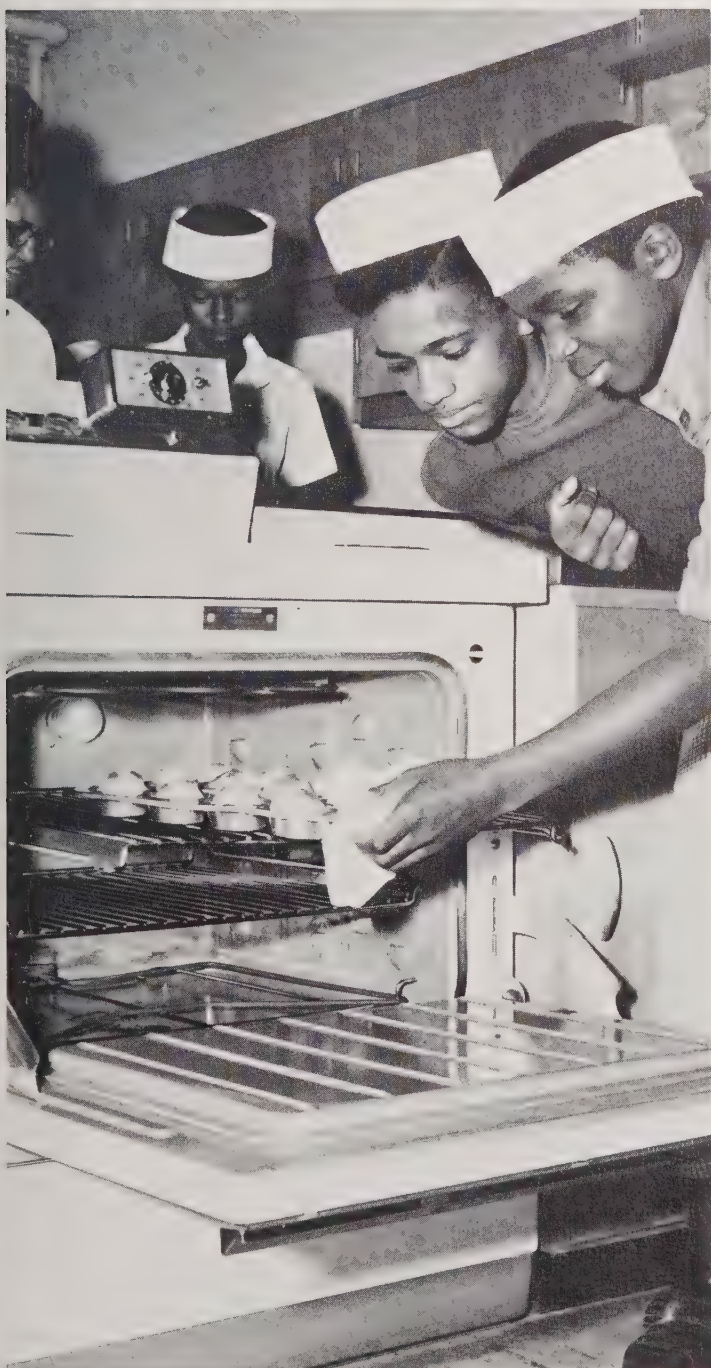

Mrs. Thelma Turner

Greater expansion occurred in the Home Economics Department than in any other. Food Services and Boys' Home Economics were added to the curriculum. Boys' Home Economics prepared the young men for the male's role in the home.

Home Economics I and II included studies of family relations, budgets, child care, sewing, and planning and preparing meals. Students made field trips to fabric centers and supermarkets.

Through Family Living films and discussions, seniors discovered new things about their personalities and prepared themselves for their future.

Ornamental Horticulture, Forestry Spurred Students

Mr. James Lindley

Mr. Julian Smith

Mr. Jim Roney

Ornamental Horticulture was added to the vocational curriculum. Students pursued interests in landscaping and gardening and were encouraged toward careers in that line.

Forestry, a branch of agriculture, was a two-unit course this year for the first time.

Cabinet-making, brick-laying, and auto mechanics provided on-the-job training and enabled students to secure jobs after graduating from high school.

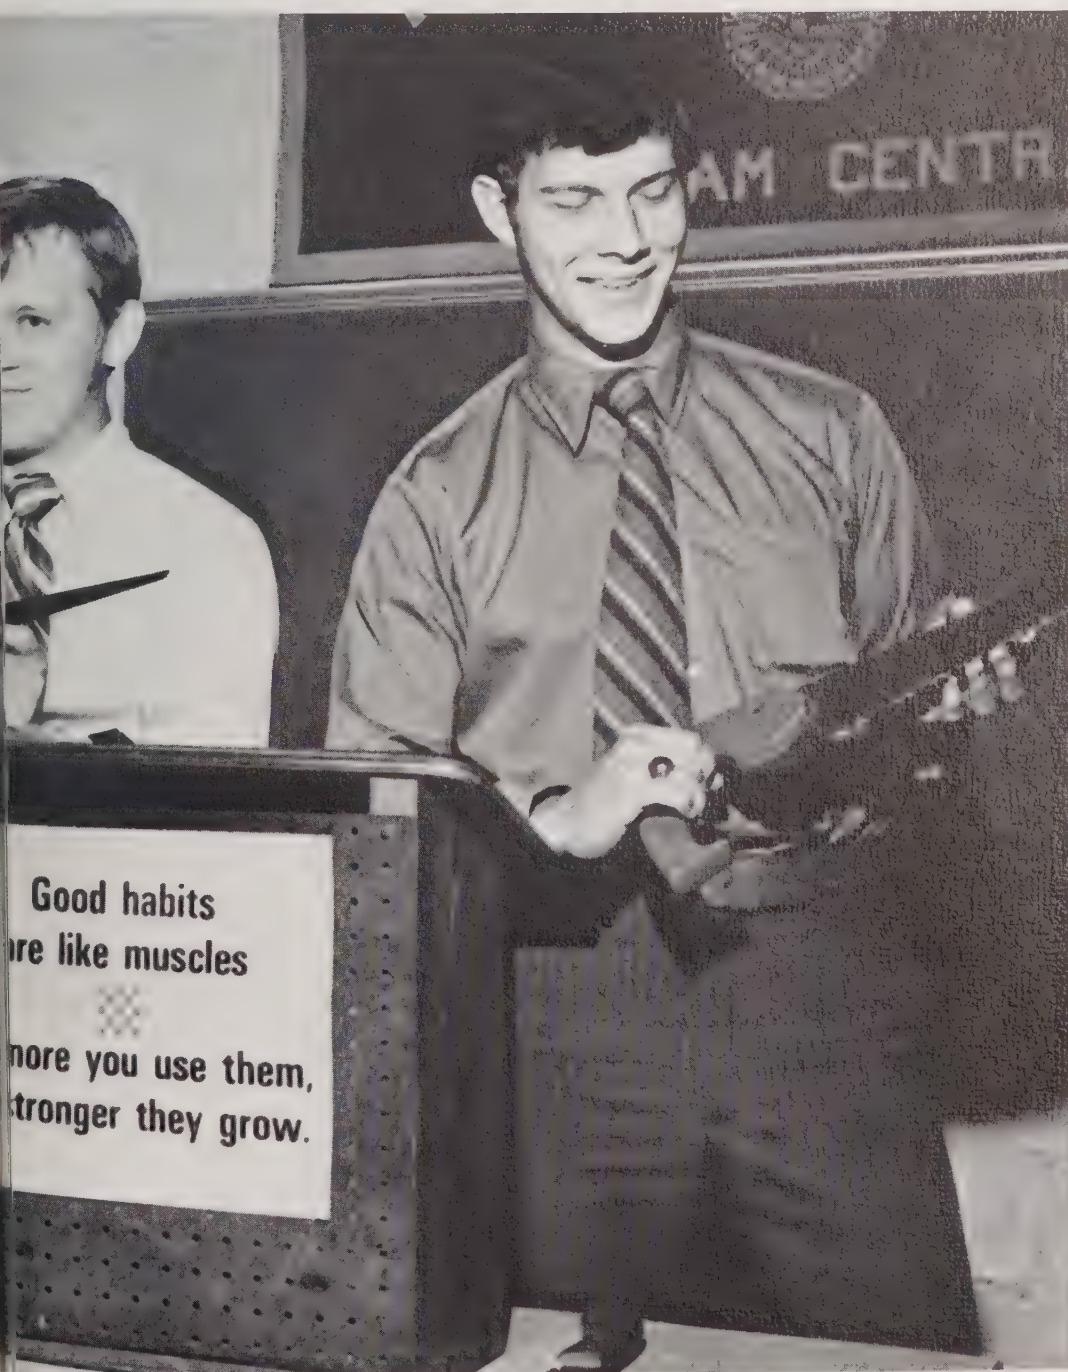

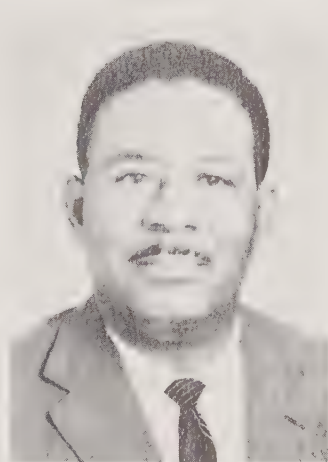

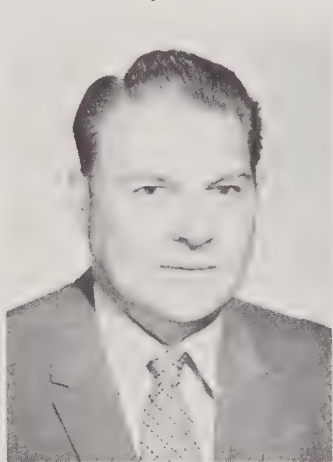

Distributive Education students received one credit for classwork and another for part-time jobs.

Full Time Drivers' Education Instructor Was Newest Addition to Teaching Staff

As evidence of growth, Chatham Central students had for the first time a full time drivers' education instructor, Ronald Scott. Interested students signed up for the course during their study halls.

During the six weeks of classwork, they learned highway laws, road signs, and good driving techniques.

Bus drivers' training was offered to potential bus drivers. Training consisted of two days of classwork and then roadwork, under the supervision of Joe Hayes.

Freshmen Attained Physical Fitness, Mental Alertness Through Physical Education

Health and physical education was a required course for freshmen. First they had to have a physical from their family doctor. Then they participated in soccer, basketball, and volleyball. During class time, they studied personalities, behavior, personal hygiene, and body structures and functions.

Advanced physical education offered a change of pace in the daily routine of upperclassmen who were more athletically inclined.

Addition of Boys' Chorus Rounded Out Music Curriculum

Members of the Boys' Chorus gathered informally to sing the selections for the day.

Central's choral department grew with the addition of Boys' Chorus.

Chatham Central's Concert Choir has become known throughout the area. Choir members toured Washington, D.C. and presented "Peace Through Love" for the Methodist Church in Reston City, Virginia.

An invitation to play in the 1970 Azalea Festival honored band members. Television coverage of the parade helped to spread the fame of Chatham Central's marching band.

Various choruses performed at P.T.A. meetings, feeder schools, and surrounding churches.

Miss Polly Yow

Mrs. Betsy Adams

Interest Developed in Art Through Added Facilities

New classroom facilities and a new classroom helped to develop interest for art classes. With an added class, more students could enroll in the program.

Students investigated many forms of art. They displayed some of their finished products in the library.

Two potter's wheels enabled students to learn more about the professional potter's methods of pottery making.

Art II students gathered around a table in their new department to work on wall plaques.

Special Education Stressed Individual Achievement and Variety in Daily Schedule

Elementary students who needed special attention received it from Mr. Hunter in the Special Education class. They achieved academically at individual rates in mathematics and the language arts.

Pupils involved themselves in recreational activities such as outdoor games, singing, drawing, and painting. They were taught to respect the rights of others and to get along with other people.

Carolyn Pickard gave an hour of her time each day to work with the Special Education class.

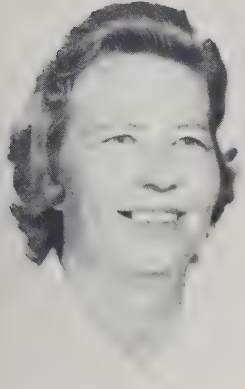

Mr. David Hunter

Mrs. Baker, the lunchroom supervisor, and her staff met the challenge of inflation in planning the varied but well-balanced meals for students and teachers.

Chatham Central's Dramatics Class and Choral Program Feature Entertainment for Students, Surrounding Areas

Growth in class offerings at Central enabled more students to participate in different ways.

This year a dramatics class made it possible for students to receive training in acting. They did the comedy-drama production, The Stolen Prince. Chatham Central's actors and actresses showed determination, achievement, and talent in their various roles.

Top Juniors were named marshals for their outstanding scholastic ability throughout their high school years.

Having grown immensely in size, the choral program, featuring the Concert Choir, widened opportunities for future careers in music. In the spring of 1970, the Concert Choir toured and performed in Washington, D. C., as well as other places throughout Chatham County.

Football Team Votes Cheryl Phillips Homecoming Queen

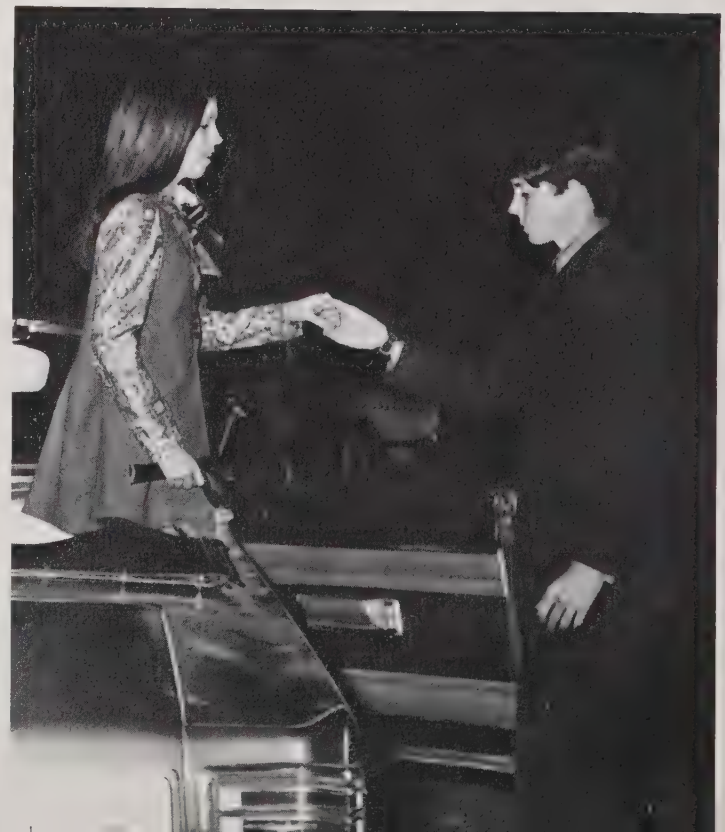

Chosen by the varsity football team, Cheryl Phillips, representing the FHA, became Chatham Central's 1971 Homecoming Queen. Beth Goldston, last year's queen, crowned her during a festive half-time September 25, 1970.

As they were escorted from convertibles, ten girls representing various clubs and organizations appeared before onlookers.

A dance held in the new student lounge featuring the band Stone Water honored the new queen, her court, and alumni.

"Cheaper by the Dozen" Was Drama Club Spring Production Active Concert Choir Honored to Sing at State Capitol

Chatham Central's Concert Choir, directed by Miss Polly Yow, has been acclaimed not only in Chatham County, but throughout North Carolina and as far north as Washington, D. C.

This year members of the choir have been eagerly raising funds by having bake sales, car washes, and other projects for a trip to New York City and Connecticut in April.

On May 17 they have been invited to sing for the governor on the state capitol grounds.

With aid from the Drama Club, the Dramatics Class is planning to present "The Stolen Prince" as soon as the auditorium is completed.

J.V. Cheerleaders, Frosh Teams Added to Provide More Opportunities for Students to Participate in Sports

Chatham Central's athletic program has provided opportunities for students to utilize their ability and interests in sports.

Although the scoreboard may not always show it, a desire to win is ever present. No matter if they are behind or ahead, the Bears still display good sportsmanship and a "never-say-die" attitude.

The athletic department has continued to grow this year in several ways with many new additions. A new scorekeeper's table was added in the gym by the Pep Club. Freshmen basketball teams for girls and boys widened the sports program and new uniforms were purchased for the Varsity teams. A Junior Varsity cheerleading squad added spirit by helping the Varsity cheerleaders in pep rallies and selling booster badges.

New Junior Varsity Squad Strengthens School Spirit

This year an added Junior Varsity squad combined efforts with the Varsity squad to support Chatham Central's athletics.

Elected by a student-teacher committee, the varsity squad worked throughout the summer earning money to purchase new uniforms. During the year they practiced regularly and made and sold booster badges for each home game.

Varsity and Junior Varsity squads, sponsored by Beverly Ennis, held pep rallies, made posters and backed their teams at all games.

Carl Thompson Selected for All-Conference Team

The 1971 football team finished the season with a 2-8 record, to give them a seventh place standing in the Central Tar Heel Conference.

After a disappointing loss to Jordan Matthews, the Bears bounced back to record their first victory of the year over Ellerbe 26-0. Following this came losses to Northwood, Union Pines, Hargrave Military, Rohanen, West Montgomery and Northwood again.

In their last home game of the season, Central picked up their second win of the season over East Montgomery.

The Bears were then defeated in the final game of the year by North Moore.

Carl Thompson was selected for the All-Conference Team while Danny Wall, Morris Farrar, Raymond Tysor, and J. R. James received Honorable Mention.

Sandra Williamson, Cheryl Brewer Were All-Conference Selections

Recording a winning season, the Lady Bears placed fourth in the conference with 11 wins and 5 losses.

In the opening game, the Bears suffered a 49-33 defeat by Southwestern Randolph, but got revenge in the following game, 32-31.

C. C. fans witnessed a great victory as the girls stomped Ruffin 57-23, and beat Northwood there.

The following week, losses to North Moore and West Montgomery were recorded. Next, Central defeated Rohanen 36-29.

After losing to Union Pines 53-38, CCHS won the following 3 games against Ellerbe, J. M. and East Montgomery, but lost again at Union Pines.

With victories over Gibsonville and Northwood, sweet revenge came when the Bears defeated North Moore 42-38 at Central.

At West Montgomery the Bears were disappointed by a 40-32 loss.

Central's girls ended the regular season with wins over Rohanen, East Montgomery, Ellerbe, and J. M.

In the tournament the Lady Bears went on to defeat Ellerbe only to be disappointed in the semifinals by losing to Union Pines, the conference and tournament champion.

Cheryl Brewer and Sandra Williamson were named to the All-Conference Team. Cheryl was also an All-Tournament selection.

All-Conference Selection Carl Thompson Leads Scoring

Finishing the 1970-71 season with a 7-14 record, the Chatham Central boys placed seventh in the Conference.

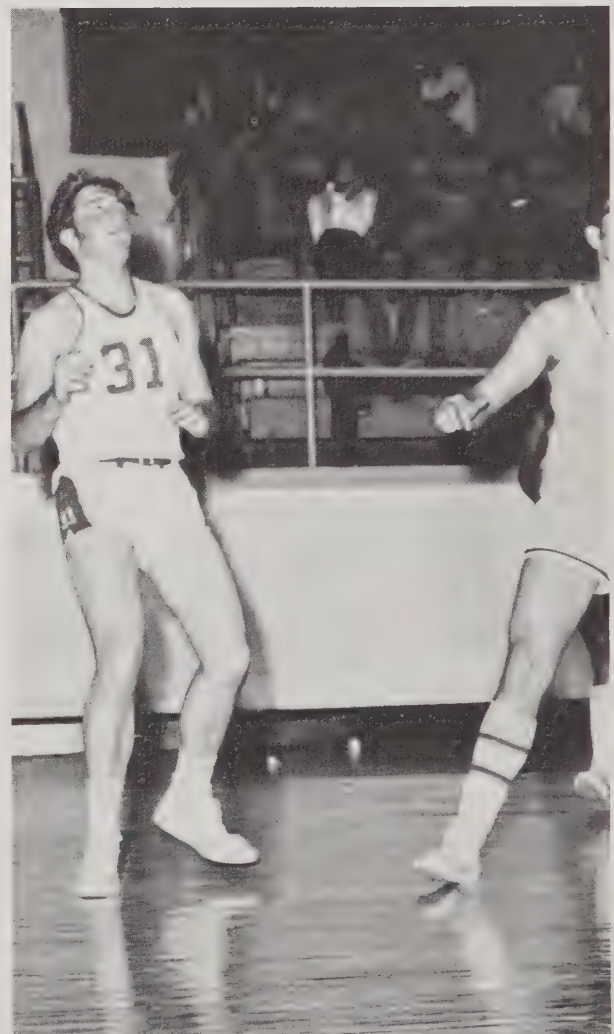

After losing their first game of the season to Southwest Randolph, the Bears bounced back to defeat Southwest 59-50. The Bears followed this with a victory over Ruffin 54-59. After losing to Northwood, Central defeated North Moore for the first time in history by a 46-38 score.

Central then met defeat at the hands of West Montgomery, Union Pines, and Rohanen before defeating Ellerbe 70-55.

C. C. held the short end of a 81-53 score with J. M. but followed the loss with a 47-31 victory over East Montgomery.

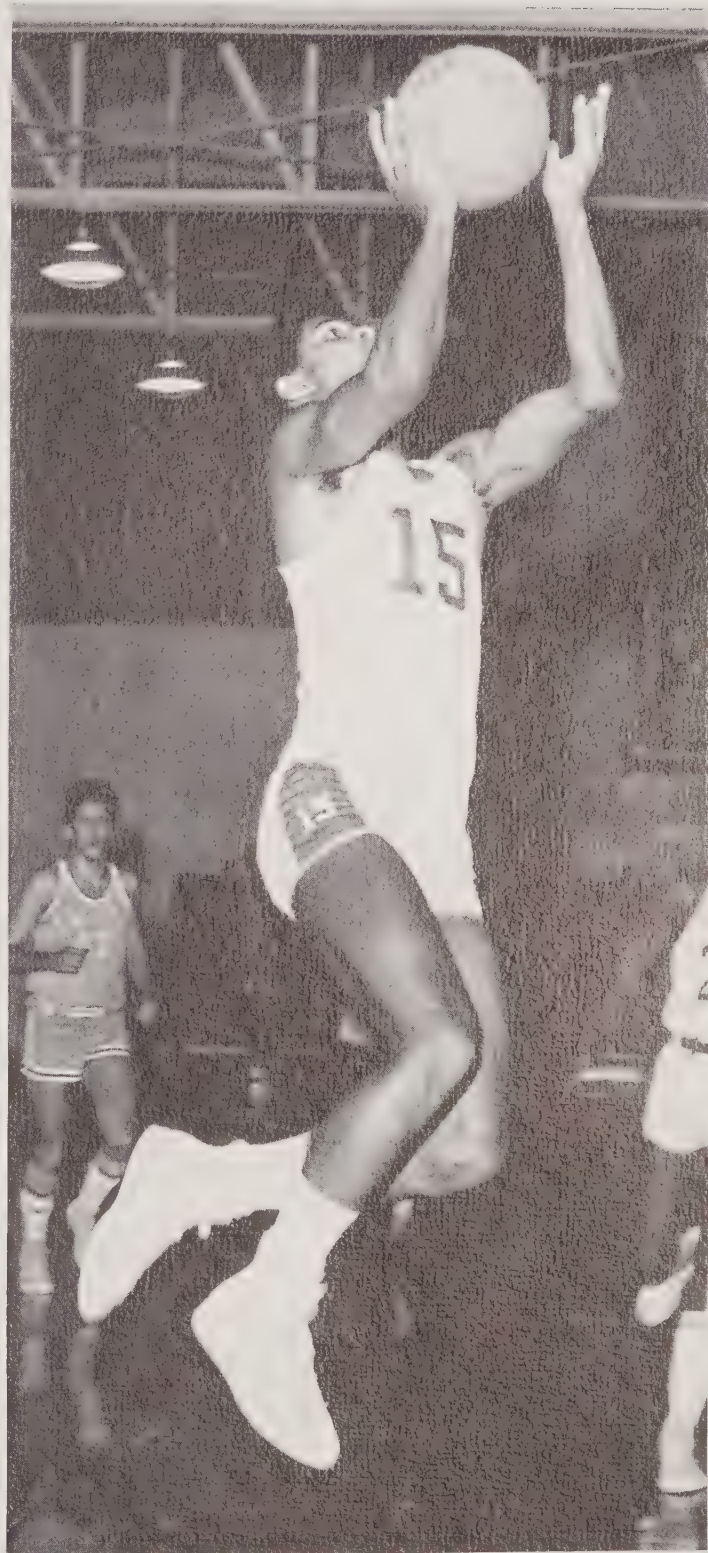

In January, the Bears dropped five straight games, before defeating Rohanen 66-65. After losing to East Montgomery, Central picked up their last win of the season over Ellerbe 55-47. The Bears finished the season with losses to J. M. and a tournament loss to North Moore.

Raymond Tysor Captures Most Valuable Player Title

Starting in early February, the 1970 track team worked until the latter part of the year to prepare themselves for the meets. The team endeavored to combine conditioning with competition. Competing only twice in conference meets, the team failed to get a first place, though they still picked up experience.

J.V.'s Acquire 8-5 Record; Four Victories over Dragons Highlight Winning Season

The 1970 Junior Varsity Baseball Team, coached by Randy Martin, finished with an 8-5 win loss record.

The hitting was led by third baseman, Randy White; outfielder, Ken Bray; and second baseman, Tony Cheek.

Mike Fox, Mike Burke, and Darrell Welch paced the pitching.

Four victories over arch rival Pittsboro highlighted the season.

Greater Participation in J.V. Football Promises Improvement in Varsity Team

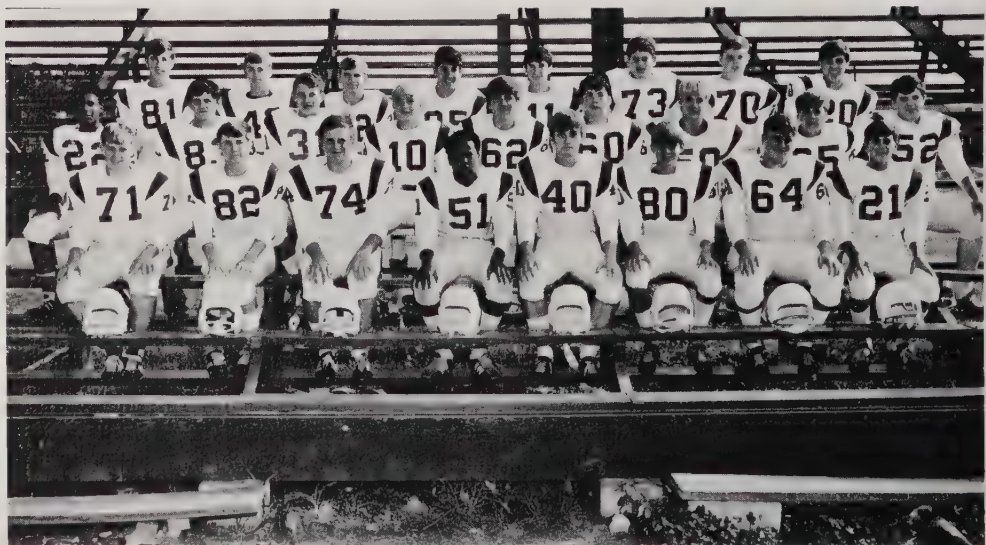

Despite growth in number, the J.V. football team finished with a 1-5 season record.

Coached by Marlyn Scott and Bobby Dowd, the team recorded their only victory of the season against North Moore 26-12. This game followed an 18-8 loss to Union Pines.

Central then finished their season with four straight losses to Northwood, West Montgomery, East Montgomery, and an 18-14 squeaker to Jordan Matthews.

Inter-Club Council Organizes School-Wide Candy Sale to Meet Clubs' Budgets Through One Combined Effort

This year activities of all clubs and organizations were approved by the Inter-Club Council. The Council was made up of presidents of the clubs and was headed by Wilsonni Grandy.

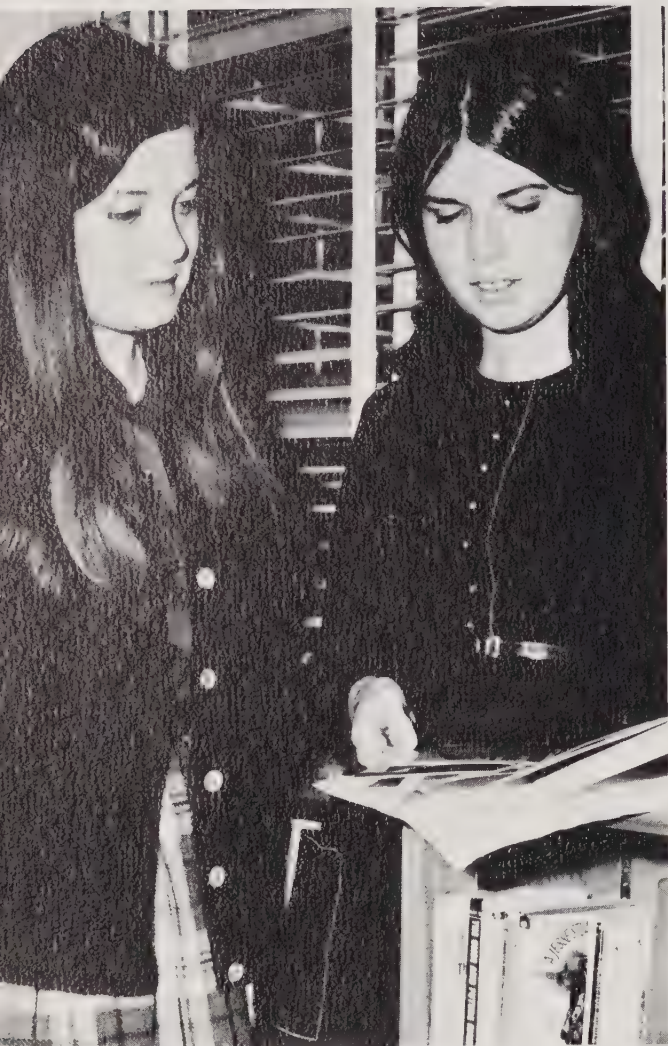

In previous years each club has been responsible for providing its own money through some individual project. This problem was eliminated by the Inter-Club Council.

In the fall, each club met and discussed their expenses for the year. A budget was then prepared and submitted to the Council, who established an overall club budget.

To meet the budget, Inter-Club Council organized a successful school-wide candy sale.

Enough profits were realized to proportion among all clubs necessary funds.

School Year at C.C.H.S. Through Theme "Here We Grow"

Selection of the theme "Here We Grow" launched the Centralia staff in the preparations for the 1971 edition.

Receiving no class credit for the hard work, staff members gave many more hours than the allotted period each day.

To meet a ninety-percent deadline on December 7 and try to give coverage of all school events noteworthy of remembering has been a challenge to each staff member.

BEAR FACTS Earns First Class from National Scholastic Press Staff Moves into New Quarters

National Scholastic Press Association awarded the Bear Facts a First Class rating for the spring semester of 1970. This rating indicates sound journalism and high standards compared to other papers in this category.

The senior staff was joined by the members of Journalism I in a concentrated effort to earn the rating. This group now serves as the senior staff.

Bear Facts set a goal to include in some issue every student's name at least once during the year.

Student Council Organizes Seven Committees to Serve Growing Student Body Better

"Pride in your Student Council" was the Student Council's theme this year. New and different projects and committees involving many students were initiated.

One such committee was the Student Lounge Committee, organized not only to secure furnishings for the new lounge area, but also to help see that the area was clean and well-kept.

Formed to co-ordinate clubs, the Inter-Club Council has been effective in its first year.

C. C. H. S. sent delegates to the North Carolina Student Council Convention in Asheville.

Newly Organized Council Coordinates Club Activities

With growth in the number of clubs and a need for communication between them, the Student Council organized an Inter-Club Council this year.

Composed of the presidents of the various clubs, the council secured the clubs' yearly budgets and planned a candy sale to raise money to be proportioned according to financial need.

The council delegated responsibilities to various clubs in preparations for various school activities.

Mr. Dickey Hughes, newly-acquired coach at C. C. H. S., took on responsibilities of advising the Monogram Club.

The club entertained the alumni with a Homecoming Dance September 25 to raise money to help finance the purchase of the senior members' sweaters. The club also sponsored the Red and White game before basketball season.

Drama Club Members Attend UNC-CH Playmaker Plays Large Club Helps Drama Class

The Drama Club this year boasted over 70 members. Miss Jo McKee, the advisor, made it possible for the club to attend a workshop in Chapel Hill and attend plays, such as The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail, put on by the Carolina Playmakers.

The Club also entertained the school with plays at assembly period which members of the dramatics class rehearsed and produced as class projects.

TOP Miss McKee and dramatics students are entertained by Charles Goldston as he practices a skit in class. BOTTOM Club members gather in unfinished auditorium to make plans for using facilities for a spring production.

Betas Visit Goldston Rest Home as Service Project

This year the Beta Club sponsored inexpensive but worthwhile service projects.

Beta members visited the rest home in Goldston and carried personally prepared gifts.

Each week a member offered over the intercom a "Thought for the Week."

Several Beta Club members made the annual trip to the convention which was held this year in Asheville.

UPPER Beta Club officers Gayle Stinson, president; Becky Gaines, vice-president; Barbara Hilliard, secretary; and Cynthia Elkins, treasurer, discuss with members plans to visit the Goldston Rest Home residents. LOWER Donna Way gives "Thought of the Week" over intercom to the student body.

Addition of Boys' Chorus Gives Chatham Central the

Central's choral program includes 130 students. Better than twenty per cent of the student body is involved in the four choruses.

Students who can sight read music and pitch tone make up the Concert Choir. Officers are Danny Wall, president; Diane Wilkie, secretary-treasurer; and Morris Farrar, librarian.

Members sponsor bake sales and car washes to help finance their trips. They raised the money themselves to pay the expenses of their trip to Washington, D. C. last year.

Concert Choir presents a winter and spring concert each year. They perform at churches and entertain civic clubs.

Boy's Chorus, the newest addition to the program, boasts 42 members. They specialize in pop music and other contemporary songs.

Composed of girls with one year of chorus training, the Girls' Chorus also sings popular music.

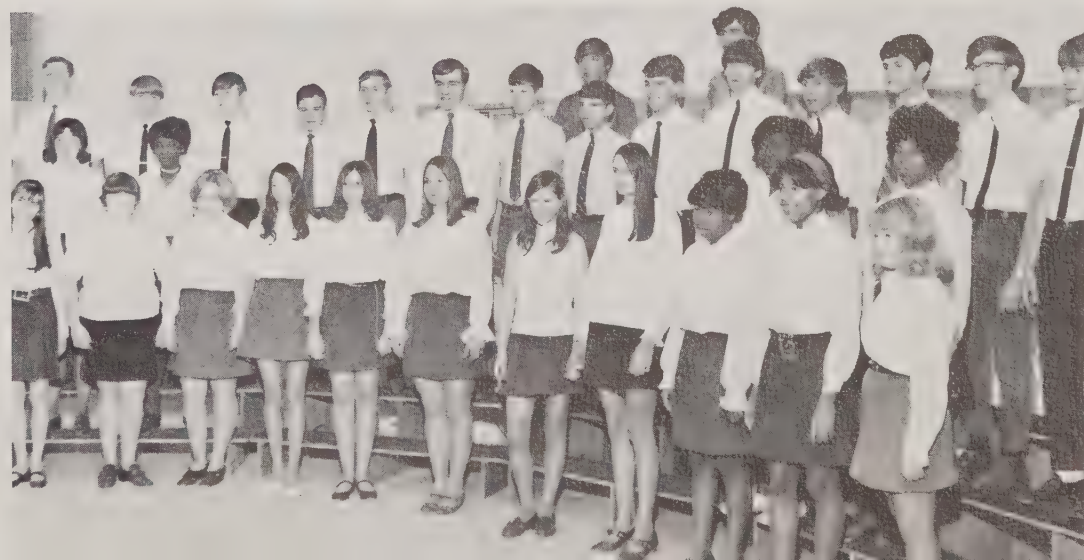

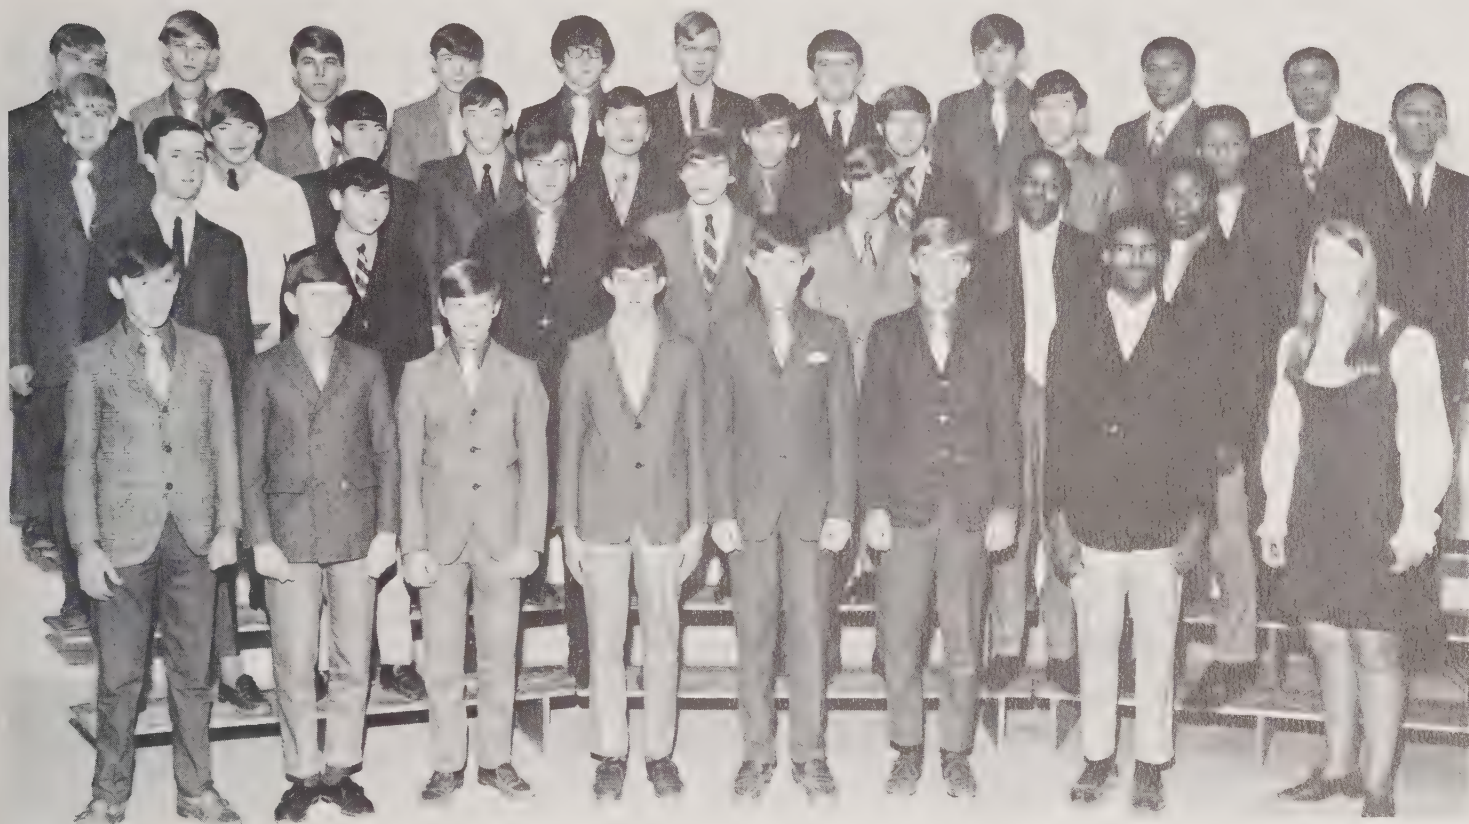

Junior Chorus develops skills and prepares beginning students for the other choruses.

Marching Bears Honored by Three Parade Invitations

The Chatham Central Marching Band, now in its third year of organization, has grown tremendously in popularity. Headed by Miss Polly Yow, the band has traveled and marched in numerous parades. The band was honored with an invitation to the Azalea Festival in Wilmington. They were also privileged to march in three Christmas parades where they proved that hard work is most rewarding. In addition to these activities, the band was kept busy boosting spirits at football games.

Members of the band have devoted many hours of their time to strenuous practices which has given them the satisfaction of an improved organization. Band students awaited the completion of the new band area with anticipation and new goals.

ABOVE Marching Bears have been working long and hard the past three years to give Bear Creek and surrounding communities something to be proud of. Even when the game was not going as well as wished, the band livened the fans. Here the band moves into formation to play "Tijuana Taxi." BOTTOM

Active Pep Club Boosts School Spirit at Games, Purchases Score Table

Pep Club members generated much-needed school spirit by helping cheerleaders at ballgames and pep rallies. They made dozens of eye-catching posters announcing various games.

This year navy sweaters with red lettering designated members from other fans at the games. Among the club's contributions to the school is a bright red and white score table for the gym.

Central Represented at N.C. DECA Conference

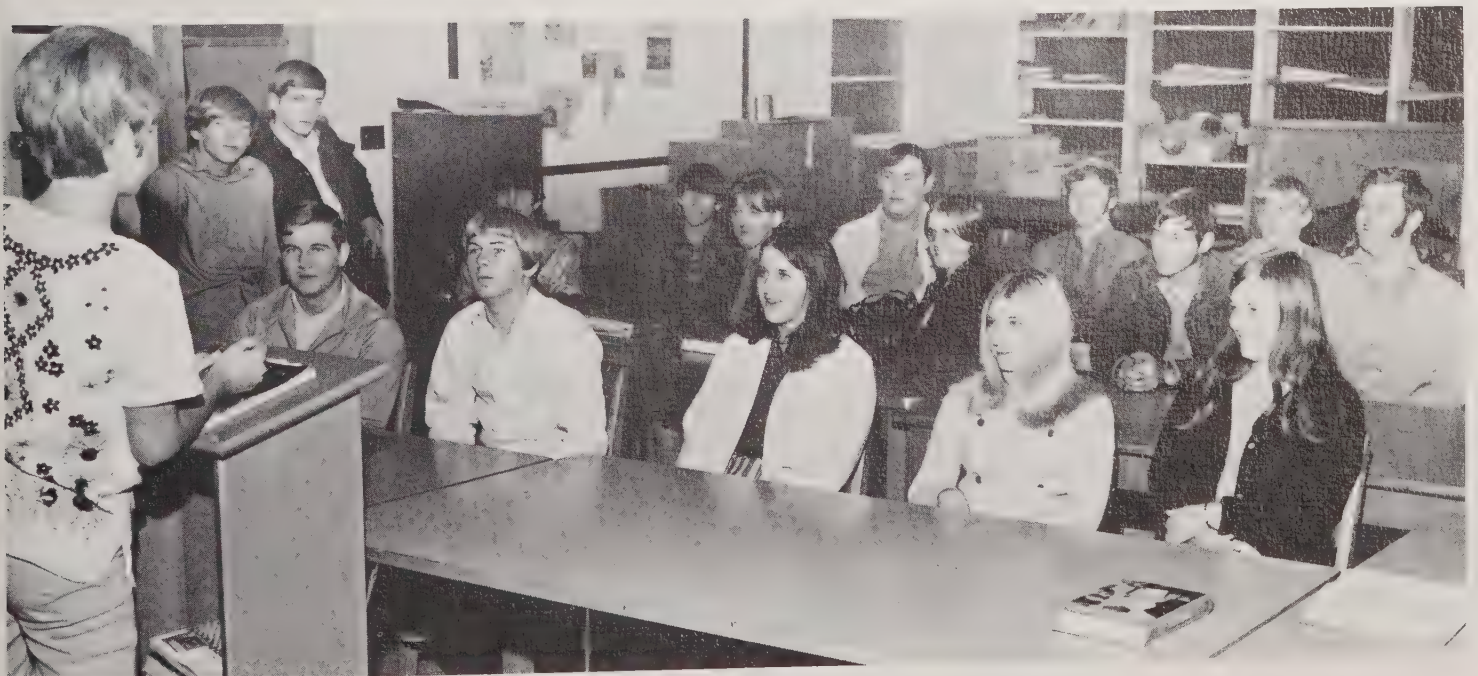

DECA, organized at Central by Mr. James Lindley, was led by Kay Elkins, president; Amy Cox, vice-president; Pat Fields Cox, secretary-treasurer; and Marcella Gwyn historian.

Kay Gaines, Ella Williams, and Advisor Lindley represented the local club at the North Carolina Conference held in Greensboro.

Representating Central in the "Miss DECA Sweetheart" contest was Vickie Morgan.

As Group Effort of Future Farmers and Homemakers

Chatham Central's FHA and FFA are very active in community affairs. As a community service the FFA sold rat poison and greenhouse plants and also participated in a national program to better the community.

The FHA carried fruit to the Pittsboro Christian Home, and at Christmas they carried fruit and presents to the Southeastern Day Care Center.

Driving Instructor Promotes Chatham Central's First Organization for Bus Drivers

Central's first Bus Drivers' Club was organized this year under the direction of Mr. Ronald Scott, who will be advisor to the group. Membership was restricted to holders of bus licenses.

In addition to stressing safety, the club sought fringe benefits such as county passes to ball games.

Advisor Ronald Scott meets with newly-elected officers to discuss projects for club.

Morris Farrar fills out bus driver sheet during school hours, as most drivers do.

Over 25 members from feeder schools and Chatham Central form the Bus Drivers' Club.

Members Learn Picture-Taking, Developing Techniques

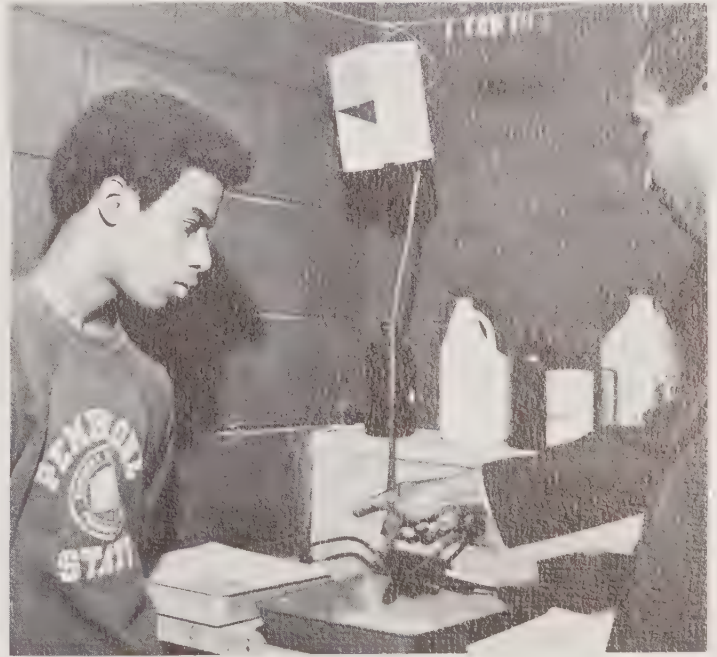

Mr. Shell explains proper procedure in using picture enlarger to students.

Advisor J.D. Shell taught Photography Club members developing processes as well as good picture-taking techniques.

To prepare students to make pictures for Bear Facts and Centralia was the central goal for the year.

Club Expands Students' Knowledge of French Culture

President Deborah Cotten explains the constitution to the club members. As well as conducting the meetings, she assigns parts for skits to be presented in French at future meetings.

Secretary Jenny Jessup, Vice-President Ruth Ann Taylor, President Deborah Cotten, and Treasurer Sherry Belk cheerfully discuss the bulletin board display in the French classroom.

In its second year, the French Club provided activities to increase students' knowledge of French, as well as to entertain them.

To acquaint members with French civilization and customs, students saw films, did reports, produced puppet shows, and dined at a French restaurant.

Advisor Constance Hill listens as French Club members practice with puppets.

Mrs. Leonard helps Rex Scott with the recording equipment.

Assistants Work Without Class Credit to Achieve Smooth Operation

One job of the library workers is putting books and magazines in their places.

Workers busy themselves in the research department of the library.

Library Club consists of assistants and other students who have an interest in the library. The library assistants, without whom the library couldn't function, give up their study halls to help students understand how to use various materials.

Members discuss at their meeting how the library can be used more beneficially by the students. They also learn to operate audio-visual equipment and volunteer their services in assisting others to use the machines.

Largest Debate Club Attends Workshop in Chapel Hill

Advisor Doris Huneycutt explains projects of debate club to Secretary Phyllis Hart and President Joey Goldston.

Debaters this year considered the problem of pollution and the government's responsibility in solving the problem.

Several club members attended a workshop in Chapel Hill in September to get background information on the topic.

Later in the year they divided into teams to discuss the topic and prepare a case.

Many freshmen and sophomores were attracted to the club this year as it grew to its largest size since its organization.

Debaters turn in permission slips to attend debate workshop in Chapel Hill.

Tours, Speakers Inform Club Members of Health Careers

Elaine Dolin, sponsor, pins an officer's badge on President-elect Sue Wall.

Medical Careers Club's major project was a visit to a rest home at Christmas. Chatham Hospital in Siler City gave assistance through the year on scholarships, tours in various hospitals, and conventions. A variety of people in different professions from well known hospitals and schools lectured to, as well as provided information for the club.

Officers and sponsor look through medical pamphlets and discuss possible careers in medicine.

Growth of interest in the Health Careers Club is evidenced by the large number of members who gathered for their picture in the courtyard.

Increase in Underclassmen Emphasizes School Growth Largest Freshman Class in School's History Enrolls

With more freshmen enrolling at CCHS than ever before, a growing student body was obvious.

Planned speakers, outside consultants, and a full-time counseling service influenced students to prepare for further education after high school. This is a growing trend at Central with over fifty percent of the senior class anticipating higher education.

Chatham Central's students took advantage of new opportunities offered through the courses added this year. A variety of classes encouraged development of individual student interests in dramatics, art, music, and vocations.

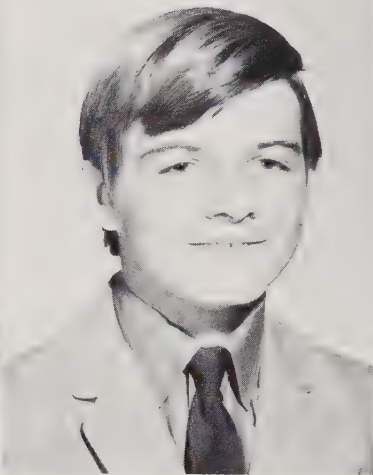

Students at Central learn more than just the academics. Here they grow by accepting responsibility, by learning to adjust socially and by working with ethnic groups.

Ad Staff Grows in Knowledge of Dealing with Outside Business World While Making 1971 CENTRALIA Possible

In June the 1971 Centralia Ad Staff gathered to prepare for an extremely important assignment: to request businesses of the surrounding communities to lend financial support to the yearbook.

Much hard work and many time-consuming trips boosted the Staff to record-breaking sales totaling $1925.

As a result of this sale of ads, we have grown in the knowledge and understanding of the business world, in the experience of confronting the public, in managing business transactions, and in learning the other necessities of financing a successful yearbook.

Without the support and co-operation of advertisers, faculty, students, and administrators, the 1971 edition of the Centralia would have been impossible.

45 Years of PROGRESS...

Pride in products and Company on the part of management and employees working together, combined with the interest and support of the people in the community have been the key to our growth. This has brought us from our beginning in Alamance County as distributor in 1925, and manufacturer in 1937, to the position of being one of the world's largest hosiery producers in 1969. Today we make hosiery and related products under world famous brand names. Our plants are located in the cities shown on the map. We are pleased to bring you this story of progress, because it started in this area.

We, the 1971 Centralia staff, express appreciation to faculty, administration, and students for their co-operation with us in making this publication possible. A special thank you we say to our advisor, Mrs. Betty Caviness, for the guidance and patience she showed in working with us.

As Seniors, the time has come to look ahead beyond our days at Chatham Central. However, it is impossible to bury the past of our cherished high school years. The many sad times and happy times we have shared together will never be forgotten. All the sincere and proud efforts we have made to improve our school are left behind.

Now, "Here We Grow" in our separate ways. To the students, we leave our sincere hopes for continued growth of Chatham Central, just as our efforts have caused it to grow in the past.
